

6.8 ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITES

This is a list of Southland Land District archaeological sites recorded as at 18 February 1994 under the New Zealand Archaeological Association Site Recording Scheme (which began in the 1950s). The NZAA Southland Filekeeper holds detailed records (called 'site record forms') for each of these archaeological sites - hence the Southland File is the most complete and updated source of information on the sites briefly listed here.

The Southland Filekeeper also maintains silent (non public) files on archaeological sites containing burials or human remains (usually Maori) which are not listed in the index below or on the planning maps. Because of the sensitive nature of these sites, the Filekeeper maintains close liaison with Iwi and the information is normally restricted. Providing the reasons for inquiry regarding burial sites are specific and genuine, the Filekeeper will endeavour to assist developers or private persons re the location of such sites but will liaise in the first instance with Iwi.

This index is intended only as a preliminary guide - general inquiries re the specific nature or exact location of archaeological sites on public or private property should be made to:
