Description

Location	Mitchell Road/Tyneholm Road
Classification / Status	Scenic
Area (ha)	14.6860
Legal Description	Secs 24 & 29 Blk X Wyndham SD
Control	Council
Previous Management Plan	No
Hierarchy	District
Adjacent Land	These reserves are surrounded by steep rolling farmland. The Southern reserve is surrounded by land that was planted out in pinus radiata in 2000.
Facilities	Fencing.
Acquisition	These two sections were set aside from the disposal of the Tyneholm Farm Settlement in 1985 as a Scenic Reserve.

General Description

These fenced off reserves are surrounded by farmland and separated from each other by approximately 2.5 km along Tyneholm Road. Both reserves contain remnant native vegetation though it is evident from the state of the ground cover that grazing stock have only been excluded from these reserves in the last 1-2 years. Both areas are dominated by kamahi, and there are some large old lemonwood, horopito and fuschia making up the remainder of the canopy. The remnants are valuable in that they are providing habitat for native bird species. The farmland surrounding the southern reserve has recently (2000) been planted out in Pinus radiata species. Although there is legal access there is currently no defined public access into either of the reserves. Gorse has been a problem in recent years on the boundaries and work has been done to control the boundary weeds.

Specific Policies

- Continue to maintain the natural and scenic values of the Tyneholm Scenic Reserves.

Future Development Potential

Continue to manage the pest animal and plant problem within the reserve and on the boundaries. Follow the management guidelines as outlined in "Management of Introduced Animals and Plants in the Reserves of Southland District" Mawhinney and West (1999). Consider any opportunities in the future to allow public access to the reserve.
